PRICE FOUR CENTS.

2 Hour Parking, Smith Returns Asphalt Streets, Bands and Signs

Those Were Some of Matters Discussed at Public Works Board Meeting—Two-Hour Parking Upheld—Excelsior Band to Play for City Concerts—Aldermen Attend Session.

The adoption of a two-hour parking ordinance for the urban business district, awarding the contract for the remaining four summer band concerts to the Excelsior Hose Company Band, accepting the deed to Lenox Court, of Washington avenue, together with a discussion of asphalt pavement and the advisability of repaving the city's asphalt plant were the more important matters taken up at the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works held Tuesday evening in the Municipal Building on East O'Reilly street. Mayor Dempsey presided with Commissioners Scherck, Forst and Passenden present. The absence was Commissioner Ames Van Etten who was unable to be present.

Uptown Parking.
The question of a parking ordinance for the uptown business section had been discussed at a previous meeting of the board when the Uptown Business Men's Association had sent in a communication asking for a one-hour parking ordinance. At that time the matter was thoroughly discussed and the board was of the opinion that a two-hour limit would work out better and could be better enforced and the matter was referred to Corporation Counsel Harry H. Fleming to draft an ordinance. Tuesday evening the corporation counsel submitted an ordinance for two-hour parking on the following streets:

- Clinton avenue from Main to North Front streets.
- Wall street from Main to North Front streets.
- Pat street from Main street to North Front street.
- Main street from Clinton avenue to Green street.
- John street from Clinton avenue to Crown street.
- North Front street from Clinton avenue to Crown street.

On motion of Commissioner Forst the ordinance was adopted.

Excelsior Band Given Contract.
William B. Martin, business manager for the Excelsior Hose Company Band, sent in a communication asking that the remaining four city band concerts be awarded to the Excelsior Band. Mayor Dempsey called the board's attention to the fact that the first five of the series of nine concerts had been played by the American Mechanics Band, the last being played that evening, and that the manager of the Mechanics Band had stated that as the band members were going away on vacation it would be impossible to play the other four concerts. Originally the summer concerts had been awarded to the Mechanics Band and the Citizens Band, but as the latter band was a union band it was unable to divide the contract with a non-union band. The mayor said he had no objection to the contract for the four remaining concerts being awarded to the Excelsior Band.

Petition for Sewer.
A petition for a sanitary sewer in Foxhall and Albany avenues, running north and south, was filed with the board and was referred to the street committee and city engineer to prepare an estimate of the cost and report back to the board.

Schryver Court Sewer.
A communication from the William C. Schryver Lumber Company, Inc., was read in which it was stated that the company was surprised over the action of the board in refusing to accept a deed to Schryver Court until the private sewer being constructed on the property met with the approval of the board. The company stated that the sewer had been built through Fair street and with eleven houses connected to it. In fact it was 100 per cent better than the Foxhall avenue sewer in front of the company's property. The communication was referred to the city engineer to report later to the board.

Converse Street Light.
S. M. Watts, general manager of the Kingston Cold Storage Company, sent in a communication asking that the board reconsider the placing of the street light on Converse street. It was referred to the lighting committee.

Another Sewer Question.
John H. Greer, president of the Kingston Community Hotel Corporation, owner of the Governor Clinton Hotel, sent in a communication stating that during the past year the directors of the hotel have been trying to secure some action relative to the surface water sewer extending from Albany avenue and through the lands owned by the hotel company and emptying into the lower lands below the bluff. The sewer would continue through to the line in the rear of the hotel and should be attended to without further delay.

"As we understand the matter," Mr. Greer wrote, "an agreement was made by the common council in 1914 between George H. Sharpe and Leaves Restful Surroundings With Reluctance to Hold Conference With Raskob and Prepare His Speech of Acceptance.

Hampton Bays, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP).—With an appreciative wave of the hand to the weather man who had done all he could to make the vacation of a presidential nominee enjoyable, Governor Smith said farewell today to an old summer stamping ground and turned back to New York, Albany and his campaign.

Refreshed by a little more than three days at the shore, during which he concealed any political worries he may have had, the governor called for automobiles to be at Canoe Place Inn about noon. It was with reluctance that he pulled himself away from restful surroundings.

The Democratic nominee's schedule provided for a stop at Deer Range State Park, near Babylon, wrestled from private ownership after years of litigation.

Then on to New York, where in his suite on Fourteenth floor of the Biltmore Hotel, his home in the city, he expected to remain until Sunday when he will travel up the Hudson to Albany, stopping at Peekskill to review National Guardsmen in camp.

To Confer With Raskob.
Before his departure from Hampton Bays the Democratic nominee reiterated that he had no definite appointments booked for his stay in New York. He said, however, that he undoubtedly would talk things over with John J. Raskob, head of the Democratic national committee, and director of his campaign.

But even though his vacation at the shore was at an end Smith today still showed an unwillingness to be bothered by the cares that come to aspirants for public office. He looked forward to a restful cruise tomorrow down Long Island Sound on the yacht of his friend, "Bill" Todd, the shipbuilder, who told a Senate investigating committee some months ago that he was ready to dig deep into his pocket to provide the funds needed to put the man he admired in the White House.

Must Work on Acceptance Speech.
Once he gets back to the seclusion of the executive mansion at Albany, Governor Smith will find as the next order of business the preparation of his acceptance speech, which is to be delivered three weeks from this evening and broadcast by radio throughout the nation. Steadfastly he has declined to give any inkling as to what he will say, except that his address will touch on all campaign issues, including prohibition and farm relief.

In fact, the governor has had little to say about his plans, despite the proddings of newspaper men, who would like to know just what he plans to do. As the nominee looks at the situation it is folly to talk about things that won't materialize for a month or more and he is keeping mum.

ITALIAN DIVERS RECOVER $2,000,000 IN JEWELS.
Lorient, France, Aug. 1 (AP).—A message from Belle Isle today said that sunken treasure consisting of diamonds and precious stones valued at $2,990,000 had been recovered by Italian divers from the hull of the Belgian steamer Elizabethville. The vessel was torpedoed off the coast near here during the closing months of the war.

The divers, who were employed by the Belgian government, found the task exceptionally arduous. They succeeded in locating the treasure a fortnight ago and dynamited the strong room. The explosion caused the flooring to give way and the treasure chest fell to the bottom. It appeared that it would be almost impossible to reach it, but the salvage workers persevered and recovered the jewels.

AMATEUR BUCKET BRIGADES FIGHT HOLLYWOOD FIRE.
Hollywood, Aug. 1 (AP).—A fire which started in an unoccupied house in Laurel Canyon near here shortly before midnight and extended to the dry brush of the canyon slopes, threatening many fine homes, was brought under control early today by amateur bucket brigades and firemen.

Many film celebrities who own homes or summer cottages in the picturesque canyon joined their neighbors with buckets and garden hose, drenching the roofs of houses and beating out the brush fire.

Three Strangers Arrested.
Linwood Cappers, Jerry Cronin and Eugene Keiffer, three strangers, were arrested Tuesday by Officer Thorney of the New York Central police force for loitering on railroad property. They were given suspended sentences in police court.

Franco Hops Off For the Azores

Cadix, Spain, Aug. 1 (AP).—The hydroplane Numancia, piloted by Major Ramon Franco, hopped off for the Azores at 7:15 a. m. today. From the Azores Franco intends to continue around the world by way of the United States. The flyer had before him a jump of about 1,000 miles to Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores.

The plane was heavily laden and did not leave the water until the third attempt.

Major Franco and Captain Ruiz De Alda, who is one of the crew accompanying him, were the first to span the south Atlantic by air. They accomplished the feat in 1926.

The seaplane is a 1926 Hispano-Suiza biplane, built by the Spanish government. It has a cruising radius of 4,000 kilometers (2,485 miles). It has shown an average speed in test of 164 miles an hour.

The plane is equipped with ham-mocks so that those of duty may rest. The cabin is fitted with navigation devices which Ruiz De Alda said were similar to those in the cabin of the captain of a large liner.

Projected stops on the flight include Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores; Mexico City, La Paz, Bolivia, Lima, California, San Francisco, Port of Spain, C. C. Thalassia, Alaska and Petropavlovsk, Siberia. From Siberia, Major Franco will fly to Japan, the Philippine Islands, India, Italy and back to Cadix.

The purpose of the flight is to prove the possibility of using the seaplane as a successful means of transporting passengers and mail across the ocean.

At 8:10 the plane made an attempt to rise from the water but failed. Twenty minutes later another futile attempt was made to get it into the air. It was then decided to lighten the load somewhat before another attempt and the third attempt at 7:15 was successful.

Shortly afterward the plane soared over Puerto Rico nearly at the height of a thousand meters. The seaplane is gray, with a Spanish flag printed on its side.

Strangled Her Baby Daughter

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 1 (AP).—Mrs. Vera Berger, 34, of Cressona, confessed early today to strangling her eight-months' old daughter, Gladys Mae, on July 23, and having concealed the body in the coal cellar of George Barnes, of Arnaud's addition, near her, according to County Detective Louis Brune.

Her arrest followed Barnes's discovery of the child's body when he returned from work in the mines shortly after midnight.

Mrs. Berger took the position of housekeeper for Barnes, a distant relative, when she became estranged from her husband three months ago. Two other children are in the custody of the husband, John Berger, living at Cressona.

Police said that Mrs. Berger also confessed that she attempted to burn the body on July 25, but she came over to the police station and extinguished the blaze. A blanket, which was wrapped about the child's body, showed signs of having been afire.

According to Dorothy Tolm, of Williamstown, a friend of the accused woman, Mrs. Berger once remarked that she "would have a better life of it and a chance for a job and a good time if the child was out of the way."

WOODSTOCK MAN PAYS FINE FOR RECKLESS DRIVING.
Thomas Carey of Woodstock, who was arrested by State Troopers Sunday evening at Woodstock following an automobile accident, was released from jail Tuesday afternoon on payment of a $50 fine. Carey was driving down the road from the direction of Bearsville and when in front of the moving picture theatre his car struck a car parked on the side of the road. Carey's car turned over. The car which was struck was owned by Burns Simpkins of Oneonta. Both cars were damaged. The accident happened about 10 o'clock Sunday evening.

REPUBLICANS TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN BY RADIO.
Washington, Aug. 1 (AP).—Republicans are formulating an extensive radio campaign and there are indications that Herbert Hoover may rely almost entirely on the radio in his campaign.

Party leaders realize that the radio is a prospective avenue into almost every home and the speakers bureau is prepared to take as much advantage of this new campaign element as opportunity affords.

E. Barker, of Illinois, who has the radio arrangements in the 1928 campaign, is preparing to assume command in this field again.

Under tentative plans more than $200,000 of the campaign chest will be allotted to radio expenses. This is the contrast with $40,000 spent for this purpose by the party in 1924.

YOUNG WOMAN STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE TUESDAY.
Miss Maud Wilson, a young woman of New York city, was knocked down by an automobile driven by Herbert P. Small of Rockton on Tuesday at the Rhinecliff ferry shed. Mr. Small was driving out of the ferry shed and the woman was crossing the street. Mr. Small picked up the woman and hurried her to the City of Kingston Hospital where she was given medical attention. She complained of injuries to her neck. Later she left the hospital and returned to New York.

Secures Position.
Miss Ruby C. Cornell of the short-hand department of Spencer's Business School has secured a temporary position as stenographer and typist with Wallace J. Andrews, superintendent of rural schools, Otsego, N. Y.

Small Fortune Spent to Obtain "Dry" Evidence

"The Four Horsemen" spent between $65,000 and $75,000 in Broadway Night Clubs—Insults Against 20 Night Clubs and 139 Individuals.

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—Investigation authorities estimated today that it cost them between $65,000 and $75,000 to obtain the evidence which they believe will "dry up" Broadway.

Four undercover prohibition agents from Washington, who Broadway has nicknamed "the four horsemen," made the rounds of the night resorts establishing contacts through the liberal spending of money and turned in the evidence.

Coming to New York in February, these four men soon became well known in the city's night life as liberal spenders. Making no complaint at paying $12 a bottle for gin and tonics, $25 for champagne, $25 for cocktails, $1.75 for imported and $1.50 for domestic gin and tonics.

They were welcomed at all the night clubs. Then they disappeared. Broadway wondered where they had gone, but not for long. On the night Governor Smith was nominated for the presidency at Houston federal raiding parties descended on Broadway and served warrants on the late hosts and hostesses of "the four horsemen."

Later came the padlocking of the bars in six of the most popular clubs and yesterday indictments were returned against eight clubs and 139 individuals, raising the total indictments of the week to 25 night clubs and 139 individuals. One of the bars padlocked was Texas Guinan's Salon Royale.

The eight latest victims of the indictments were the Marguery Restaurant, J. T. Martin's restaurant, Chez Florent, of which Miss Guinan's brother, Tommy, was in charge; Little Club, Old Club, Footlight Club, U. S. 1 Restaurant and Laura McDermond Club.

Contest Among Three Women.
The drive to dry up Broadway brings to light a contest among three women—Texas Guinan and Helen Morgan, two of the street's brightest lights, and Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, militant assistant United States attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement.

It was Mrs. Willebrandt who directed "The Four Horsemen" in their devastating ride through the white light district and Texas and Helen were two of those who unwittingly entertained them.

Tex and Helen themselves are in direct contrast. Tex is blonde and gay and speaks the language of Broadway. Helen is dark and sad and sings plaintive little songs in a throaty voice.

Texas Urges on "Suckers."
Tex began life on the Texas plains, ended in some three hundred Wild West movies and then came to New York. For several years now she has been urging the "suckers" she calls them that as they come in to her clubs to "give the little girls a big hand." She does not drink and lives quietly in Greenwich Village with her brother and mother.

Helen's star began to shine much later. Chicago friends raised the money in 1925 to send her to Montreal to compete in a beauty contest. She came back with the crown. Then she appeared in several Broadway shows, making her biggest success in "Salty." The beauty and haunting undertones of her voice brought her fame and she became hostess of a night club bearing her name, where she also is filling the tragic role of Julie in the Ziegfeld musical production of "Show Boat."

All of the 139 defendants are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws and maintaining public nuisances. The maximum sentences, if they are found guilty, are two years in prison and $11,000 in fines.

Kansas Celebrates Hoover Hopes To Slayer Says Nun Influenced Him To Kill Obregon

Rehearses Original State Capitol Made Good Catch Tuesday But the Raindrops Were Too Small to Furnish Real Sport—Will Leave For San Francisco.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1 (AP).—The time of the anniversary of the death of President Calles, which was celebrated here today, was overshadowed by the news that the original state capital, which was made good catch Tuesday but the raindrops were too small to furnish real sport.

After failing to find any suitable fish around the Brown camp, the Republican presidential candidate decided to personally investigate reports that there was a good fishing hole in the Pacific Northwest near the town of Miles.

Camp was broken suddenly at Brown's, Hoover and his party, more than forty setting forth for the St. Louis Springs immediately after dinner. Two and a half hours later, a double run by automobile had been completed, most of it over the Pacific highway, which winds around the hills and across the valleys, through Yreka, Weed and Shasta City.

The journey ended soon after his arrival here as he wanted to be up and away soon after the dawn for fishing places recommended to him by anglers of this section. He had with him his favorite rod, broken down and bent in many streams and pools and preferred to new ones.

Feels Effect of Horseback Ride.
The commerce secretary felt some effect from the more than 20 mile ride he had yesterday on horseback in setting to Beaver creek and returning to the place where he and his two companions were obliged to abandon their automobile and follow the hunterman and Indian trails along the hillside through pine and other trees.

After looking over the water for a time, Mr. Hoover selected two flies for use, a royal coachman and a red ant and began casting with them.

The first place he selected did not quite suit his fancy, so without a word to his companions he untied his horse from a tree and rode a short space down the stream, where he began to cast again.

The waters there held trout six or seven inches long. The first catches were thrown back into the creek, but were as large as were to be his companions added their catch of a dozen each.

These were taken back to camp and were served to Mr. Hoover's immediate party at dinner.

Returning to Palo Alto.
After trying the waters here during the day, the presidential nominee and his party will take an evening train for San Francisco, arriving early tomorrow morning and continuing to Palo Alto by motor.

Upon arriving home Hoover will give his acceptance address to the nation and then will turn his attention to other pressing matters connected with his campaign.

Italy Crew Will Make Reports.
On Their Experiences in the Arctic Disaster to Their Immediate Superior—These in Turn Will Be Given to Mussolini.

Rome, Aug. 1 (AP).—General Umberto Nobile, Lieut. Alfredo Vigliani and the other army and navy officers who were members of the crew of the dirigible Italia, will make detailed reports of their experiences in the Arctic disaster to their immediate superiors. These in turn will be submitted to Premier Mussolini.

The Premier announced today that by this means he would make an investigation of the entire expedition. It will develop upon Captain Filippo Zappi, one of the navigators of the Italia, to report upon the experiences of the "floating party." It was with this party that in Pian Malmgren, Swedish scientist met death, and that Captain Umberto Nobile, pilot of the dirigible, suffered from frostbite.

General Nobile and his companions refuse to make any statement for publication. They have in fact asked that the information be spread that any direct or indirect report submitted to them must be considered as without foundation.

The entire Italian news is devoted today to the return of Nobile. Enthusiastic officials appear. These may be summed up in the words of Pope Pius XI, the Fascist pope, who said:

"General Nobile, magnificent made great hero of the greater. All of Italy stands up for you and for your brothers for those who are dead and for those who are alive for all the Italians, fine and great things you have done."

London, Aug. 1 (AP).—A symposium with the labor movement, which has been named archbishop of England, has been named archbishop of the most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, who will become archbishop of Canterbury, succeeding the most Rev. Randall Davidson.

Police Kill Speeder.
Buffalo, Aug. 1 (AP).—Failing to obey a police detective's order to stop an automobile he was driving through Normal Park, Lawrence Shields, of this city, was shot and killed today. Police said the car was stolen last night. Shields recently was released from Elmira reformatory.

To Have Roast Rain or Shine.
The beef steak roast of the Win-ners' Club of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be held at the church hall tonight, instead of at Forsyth Park, should rain interfere.

Fair at Shawangunk Church.
The Reformed Church of Shawangunk will hold its fair Wednesday, August 8. The fair will be open 10 o'clock and evening, rain or shine. Lester's Band of Wallkill will furnish the music. A new attractive feature this year is a children's booth. Much time has been devoted to make it a delight for children. A supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. This was done, it was said, to reach a larger radio audience in the middle west and west, where the difference in time ranges from one to four hours earlier than Albany.

Change Hour for Smith Notification Ceremonies.
New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—The hour for the start of the notification ceremonies of Governor Smith at Albany, August 22, has been changed from 7 to 10:30 p. m., eastern daylight time.

This was done, it was said, to reach a larger radio audience in the middle west and west, where the difference in time ranges from one to four hours earlier than Albany.

Assassin of Mexican President Says Mother Convinced "Indirectly" Influenced Him by Saying Raskob for Religious Possession and With Death of Obregon and Others—Nun Denies Charge.

Mexico City, Aug. 1 (AP).—A nun, Concepcion Accebedo De La Lata, has been named by Jose de la Lata, the assassin of Mexican President Calles, as having influenced him in the assassination of President Obregon.

Total named the nun when questioned by the police in the preliminary trial of the case in San Antonio, where it was formally charged with murder.

Without a collar and with his shaggy black beard showing more than a week's growth, Total seemed utterly indifferent under the questioning. He was calm and composed. His voice was low but he spoke clearly and without a tremor. He occasionally clenched his fists.

"Did you consider well everything involved when you were going to kill Obregon?" Judge Mendez asked.

"Yes," Total replied, "I thought of the consequences but not of all."

"Who influenced you to commit the deed?"

"Directly, nobody."

"Who indirectly?"

"Mother Concepcion."

"Who is Mother Concepcion?"

"The mother superior Concepcion Accebedo, who figures in the investigation."

Nun Denies Accusation.
The nun, who is being held in police headquarters in Mexico City, denied to newspapermen that she had fostered in the mind of Total a belief that he could solve the religious problems by the crime.

Prosecutor Arcey Correa Nieto exhorted Total to tell the truth and confess who inspired him to kill Obregon. The prosecutor said:

"You have said you did not think of all the consequences of your killing Obregon. Did you think it would mean that your father, mother and wife would be confined in jail, that your child-to-be will be born in jail because of your rash deed? All this can be spared and your loved ones released from jail if you tell the truth as to who inspired you."

Total replied with more emotion than he had showed at any other time.

"To no person on earth did I give the least little indication of my intention."

Nun Testifies at Hearing.
Concepcion Accebedo De La Lata, the nun who was named by Jose de la Lata as having influenced him indirectly to assassinate General Obregon, testified at the preliminary hearing of Total today that she had never told him or anybody else the death of President Calles, General Obregon and the Patriarch Pius were necessary for a settlement of the religious conflict.

She denied that she had ever influenced Total to kill any living creature, saying:

"I never thought that he would kill even a flea."

In speaking of the prisoner she used the intimate nickname of "Pepe."

Slayer's Wife Gives Testimony.
Total's wife, Paz Martin Delcampe de Total, testified that the nun and a Catholic priest named Jimenez had exercised such an influence over Total that they had distracted his attention from her, she denied having any knowledge of her husband's intention to commit the crime.

The priest, Jimenez, was mentioned frequently in police announcements respecting the investigation as one with whom Total frequently visited. He is being sought.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving memory of Mary Lyle, daughter and sister, who died three years ago today, August 1st, 1925. Why was she taken, so young and so fair? When earth had so many, it better could spare. Hard, hard was the blow, that compelled us to part. From the loved one so near and so dear to our hearts. Gone from among us, oh, how we miss her. Loving her dearly her memory we'll keep. Never to life's end will we ever forget her. Near to our hearts, is the place where she sleeps. May her soul rest in peace. (Signed) MOTHER, DADDY AND SISTERS.

In dear and loving memory of husband and father, John Cullum, who died one year ago today. We have missed you sadly. And found the year long since you went. We think of you daily. But try to be brave and content. So we shed a tear that is silent. And breathe a sigh of regret. For you were ours, we remember. If all the world should forget. WIFE, SON AND DAUGHTERS.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—Dissemination of stock market news, the stock market had an impressive demonstration of strength in which at least a dozen issues were marked up to new high levels for the year. Trading showed marked expansion in volume in a section of increasing public participation.

Auto stocks advanced at 7 1/2 per cent, the highest initial charge since July 11, but a plentiful supply of issues made its appearance at that time, and a lower rate is looked for shortly. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

Outside the stock market chief speculative interest centered in another break of 2 1/2 to 3 a bale in cotton prices on reports of continued favorable weather.

U. S. Steel Common was rather sluggish, probably because Wall Street had expected larger earnings per share in the first half of the year. Radio and General Motors shook off their early heaviness, the former selling 4 1/2 points above yesterday's final quotation by early afternoon.

Violent advances took place in some of the high priced specialties which have been under pool sponsorship. Case Threshing soared 17 1/2 points, National Tea 17 to a new high record at 28 1/2, and Indian Refining 14 1/2. Montgomery Ward continued its advance, climbing 8 points to a new high at 192 1/2. International Harvester, Atlantic Refining, Johns Manville, Frank G. Shattuck, Coca Cola and Houston advanced 4 to nearly 8 points.

New peak prices for the year, or longer, also were registered by American Can, Electric Auto Lite, Grand Stores, Jewel Tea, Kroger Stores, Pillsbury Flour, Real Silk Hosiery, Sears Roebuck and Worthington Pump.

Democratic Unity Plea of Harrison

Declares Differences On Religion and Prohibition Should Not Change Vote—Recalls Days Before the Civil War.

Lake, Miss., Aug. 1 (AP).—Senator Harrison of Mississippi pleaded here today for Democratic unity in spite of any differences on religion and prohibition.

Speaking to a gathering at Patrons' Union, he said:

"Some may honestly feel justified in supporting the Republican ticket in this election because of the views of our presidential nominee respecting the prohibition question. Others may find opposition in the fact that the Democratic nominee is a Catholic."

"As important as these qualifications may appear to some, may I say that the south cannot afford because of these diverse opinions to alienate those millions of men and women in other parts of the country who are of the Catholic faith and who entertain different views respecting prohibition. They have stood with our section for three quarters of a century on the many great and major questions of party principles and party policies."

"Differences within the church and differences between churches have without exception fanned the flame of discord and destroyed the peace and happiness of peoples. The very principle, upon which this government was founded revolt at any such idea."

"As to the prohibition question, the Republican party has made a mess of its enforcement. The Democratic party through its platform, and the Democratic nominee for President through his public utterances, have declared clearly and unequivocally for its most rigid enforcement."

"As to modification of the prohibition law, men and women will differ. They have always differed. Personally, I have voted for every prohibition law upon the statute books, as well as the Federal constitutional amendment. I do not believe in either their repeal or modification and, as a legislator, I shall oppose any such action. But I concede to the other citizens of this country a right to their opinions."

Harrison said the Democrats of the north had stood by the south during the days leading up to the Civil War, declaring that "the people of the south cannot forget that the leaders of the Democratic party in the north and the east, and especially those of New York City, came openly to the front, unafraid, and were our most stalwart champions."

"As we now to forget," he asked, "that Tammany senators and Tammany congressmen then stood upon the floor of the American Congress and spoke for the south when representatives of the south were absent and their presence denied? Is it possible for the south today to forget?"

"In the coming national campaign, the south has more at stake than any other section. It would be well for those who threaten to bolt or desert the Democratic party to recall the close wedlock between it and the south for more than a century and a quarter."

The SANDMAN STORY

ABOUT THE PORCUPINE

BILLIE BROWNIE had asked Mother Nature if he could call on a porcupine and hear something of the ways of the porcupine family. He asked her to give him the power that day and evening to understand porcupine talk. And Mother Nature agreed. So Billie Brownie went forth to the dark woods and there he met a porcupine.

"Are you all alone?" asked Billie Brownie.

"All alone," said the porcupine. "I like to wander about by myself. I'm not so very sociable. None of us are, you know."

"I'm not really sure whether I know that or not," said Billie Brownie. "I don't know much about porcupines. I may as well be quite truthful and admit my ignorance."

"I'm not surprised at it," said the porcupine.

But the porcupine explained himself after a moment.

"It is not," he said, "because I think you are an ignorant creature, for I do not know much about porcupines. I may as well be quite truthful and admit my ignorance."

"I'm not really sure whether I know that or not," said Billie Brownie. "I don't know much about porcupines. I may as well be quite truthful and admit my ignorance."

"I'm not surprised at it," said the porcupine.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 1 (AP).—(State department of agriculture and markets.)

The season's first carload of western New York cut carrots changed hands today at $3.25 per bushel basket. They were medium in size and of fine quality.

Increased receipts of green peas from upstate New York weakened the market and prices tended lower. Demand was only fair. Sales were at $1.50 @ $2.25 for good to fancy and 75c @ $1.25 on poor and ordinary.

"Everything should be favored with salt, and we even like salt all by itself or things that just have a salty flavor or taste."

"Sometimes we stay a long time at the top of a tree, especially when it is cold. We keep to the top of a tree then as people will stay indoors. I was one of four little porcupines and I was not so very long before I started away from home to look out for myself. We are independent creatures and are not little and helpless when we are born."

"No, we are quite good-sized then and we are born with all our splendid quills. I suppose you know how incorrectly these quills and what they can do have been spoken about."

"I think I know what you are going to say," Billie nodded, "but I would like to have you tell me again just how it is you act with those quills of yours."

"We swing our great spiny tails about and strike at the enemy and the quills stick into them. But we do not throw our quills. We have to touch the creature with them. So many think we throw our quills, and that is incorrect."

"That is about the only thing I have known about your family," said Billie Brownie.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Aug. 1 (P).—L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central, said the agricultural outlook in the road's territory for this time of year never was better. Corn and oats in Iowa and Illinois and cotton in the southern states were in excellent condition. He looked for sharp increases in coal traffic accompanied by higher coal prices in the near future. Passenger revenues were showing declines, but the long haul freight from the steel mills near Chicago for export via New Orleans was slightly better than a year ago.

Public Utilities California Corporation, subsidiary of Public Utilities Consolidated Corporation, holding company for the W. B. Fosbury interests, has acquired the Smith River Power Co., California.

Air Reduction Company has acquired the assets of the Ohio Oxygen Company.

United Verde Extension Mining Co. had $564,570 cash on hand on July 1, and U. S. Government Securities with market value of $3,790,733.

Vick Chemical Company earned $6.96 a share in the year ended June 30, against $5.36 a share the year before. The regular quarterly dividend of $1 was declared.

Sales of General Tire and Rubber Company increased 16 per cent in the first eight months of its fiscal year over the previous corresponding period. Owing to heavy inventory losses on Crude Rubber, net earnings for the period were reduced to 2 per cent on sales.

The National Coal Association estimates output of bituminous coal in the United States in the week ended July 14 at 8,900,000 net tons against 8,629,000 net tons the week before.

BRENNAN GIVEN GOOD CHANCE FOR RECOVERY

Chicago, Aug. 1 (P).—George Brennan was given a good chance for recovery today, but there was a general sentiment among Democratic leaders that "the Napoleon of Illinois democracy" might never again be able to resume the political leadership he has held since the death of Roger Sullivan.

There was no single personality outstanding among the state's Democratic chieftains who appeared as a natural successor to Mr. Brennan, who is fighting for his life following operations necessitated by infected teeth. There were a dozen or more men, however, any one of whom might fall heir to the Democratic dictatorship should Mr. Brennan's health compel the abandonment of the mantle.

Brennan's rise to power from breaker boy to banker was being retold today by his friends as they kept in touch with reports from his bedside which early today were that he was "getting better every hour."

Ever since Brennan stepped into the shoes made vacant by the death of Roger Sullivan, he has warred against the Volstead act, against the return of saloons, and in favor of a beer of 3 per cent alcoholic content.

His fervor, say his friends, has carried him through accidents that would have meant death for lesser men. When he was a breaker boy a leg was crushed and amputated; few knew he strode through political warfare on an artificial leg. As he conducted his vain fight for a seat in the Senate, he fell from a truck on which he spoke. While physicians labored to save his life, Mrs. Brennan stumped the state for him.

Then this week there came the septic poisoning following the extraction of two teeth. And he laughed at the worries of the friends who went to the hospital and flooded a reception room with telegrams. Brennan always has laughed. For the last 21 years Illinois politics has been veneered with his humor.

He was one of the first of the Democratic leaders to support Smith for the White House.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE SAILS FOR EUROPE.

New York, Aug. 1 (P).—William Allen White, Kansas editor who has been attacking Governor Smith's candidacy for the presidency, sailed with his wife today for an indefinite stay in Europe, a stay which he expressed the hope would last until after the election.

The Kansas declined to discuss further his charges and amended charges against Governor Smith, saying that all he had to say on that subject at the time had been said. He paid high tribute to the New York newspapers, which he said "generally held what I said in low esteem but gave it a good play."

Asked concerning his plans, White said he was going to Paris "with a chunk of money" and when that gave out he would come back.

"One thing I am going to do," he added, "is to go to Beyruth and take a big Wagnerian souse in Parsifal and purge myself of all my sins."

"What are your sins?" a reporter asked.

"We are all sinners," he replied. "I want to be purged of my political sins and my moral sins, if possible."

TWO ARRESTED FOR DOUBLE PARKING

Joseph Cull of 50 Tompkins street was arrested Tuesday for parking his truck more than six inches from the curb on East Strand. He was fined $2 in police court today.

Robert A. Boyle of 569 Delaware avenue was arrested for parking in the middle of the street on Hasbrouck avenue this morning. He will be given a hearing later in police court.

DIAMOND PICK-UPS

Uncle Wilbert Robinson isn't downhearted. He has hopes that if his club hits the bottom it will bounce.

Ed Crowley, former Georgia Tech star, who was farmed to Pensacola by Washington, has been recalled.

The doubtful honor of being the first big league pitcher to lose ten games goes to Ray Kremer of Pittsburgh.

Joe Wood, former major league pitcher and coach at Yale, expects Bruce Caldwell to be another Rogers Hornsby.

Eddie Schack, relief pitcher for the Kansas City American association club, has been sold to Atlanta of the Southern association.

Sale of Tom Padden, catcher, to the New York Yankees is announced by the Manchester club of the New England Baseball league.

Brooklyn has sent infielder Jay Partridge to its Atlanta farm in the Southern league, in exchange for Third Baseman Gilbert.

George (Lefty) Trier, one of the Boston Braves' pitchers on the "miracle team" of 1914, is now an umpire in the New England league.

Aaron Ward, former utility infielder with the Cleveland Indians of the American league has been signed by Toledo of the American association.

Moe Solomon, Jewish outfielder, for whom the Glens once paid a fancy figure, has been put on the retired list of the Albany Senators at his own request.

Shortstop Louis Benson of Houston, who has been unable to play all season because of a sore arm, has returned to the team after having the wing treated.

Freddy Spurgeon, the Cleveland infielder who broke an arm in an accident last fall and has not been able to return to duty, has been placed on the voluntarily retired list.

Cy Young, pitching immortal, hurled 'em over the plate for twenty-two years, and during that period had three no-hit, no-run games to his credit and one perfect game.

St. Paul in the American association established a record for making the most double plays in a single season in organized baseball, when the club executed 215 two-ply killings in 1927.

The Montgomery Lions have come to be known as the bluest wonders of the Southeastern league. They finished next to Pensacola for the first half, but had only one 300 man on the roll, Pete Susko.

Dale Gear, president of the Western league and Western association, was a fine pitcher in his youth. In 1898, he helped Kansas City win the Western league flag by winning three games in six days at the close of the season.

Infielder Doc Gautreaux, mite infielder of the Boston Braves, has been sent to Providence of the Eastern league by Manager Rogers Hornsby. Pitcher Art Mills has also gone the same route, and the Braves have called in Sheriff Harris from the Grays.

Manager Dan Howley of the Browns will be looking for a young outfielder by the name of Morris Badgro if this rookie keeps up the work he is doing for the Tulsa Oilers. Howley took Badgro south in the spring and then sent him to the Monrovia farm. He was too good there, so he was graduated to Tulsa. And now the fans are expecting of Badgro's "daily home run," as the Tulsa scribes are writing it.

Early American Genius

John La Farge, who died in 1870, was America's first great artist. He not only had a remarkable color sense combined with his artistic gift, but expressed successfully in the manufacture and designing of stained glass.

Tris Speaker Plays in Many Different Spots

No outfielder ever played in as many widely different spots as Speaker during a single game, writes H. G. Salsinger in the Detroit News.

He would play close behind second base for one batter and near the fence in right-center for the next.

He has caught fly balls at wider ranges and run less distance for them than any outfielder ever did.

That is one reason Speaker is still able to play. Like the pitcher who does his pitching above the shoulders, rather than with his arm, Speaker does his outfielding above the shoulders, rather than with his legs. He is still able to think and being able to think he will do a great deal of fielding although his legs were pronounced "dead," as far as baseball is concerned, three and four years ago.

Holds Many Records

Miss Martha Norellus of the Women's Swimming association and holder of practically every free-style record from 100 yards to 550 yards, who smashed her own world's record for the 440-yard swim at the final Olympic swimming tryouts. Her time was 5 minutes 40 3/5 seconds as compared to the old time 5 minutes 51 2/5 seconds.

Sporting Squibs

The Penn State college golf course has never been played in par.

Miss Helen White, expert swimmer of Australia, has been winning races for the past 27 years.

Texas university has organized a golf class for girls as part of the regular physical training work.

Lloyd Hahn, premier middle distance runner, has so many medals he doesn't know what to do with them.

Cornell, which has not won the Poughkeepsie rowing classic since 1915, has the best record of all the contestants, having won the event 13 times.

Race-track bettors in France neglected to collect the cash due on $51,850 worth of tickets last year. This amount has been turned over to various charitable organizations.

A result of the transcontinental foot race may be six-day walking contests in various cities next fall, including New York, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles. Toronto, too, may enjoy the novelty.

Barring a possible game for the Navy on December 1, Annapolis and West Point have arranged their football games for next fall. Only one common opponent is on the list, namely Notre Dame.

Jack Carwood, Fort Crook heavyweight boxer claims the longest reach of any fighter in his class. Jack's reach is 81 inches, just an inch short of that of the former heavyweight champion, Jess Willard.

Long-Held Superstition

According to an old superstition, the seventh son of a seventh son will be endowed with the gift of curing diseases by the laying on of hands. It is also said that he will have the power of soothing, namely, foreseeing the future.

Transfer "Dry" Agents in Buffalo

Buffalo, Aug. 1 (P).—Andrew McCampbell, prohibition administrator, announced today that Jacob R. Ehrlich, agent in charge of the Rochester office, has been assigned to the special enforcement unit directly under the supervision of the administrator.

Ehrlich, whose home is in Syracuse, will be succeeded by Harold T. Patton, of Fredonia, who has been a member of the special unit for the last month, during two weeks of which he acted as agent in charge of the Elmira office in the absence of James Salsinger, whose appointment as Elmira chief now has been made permanent. Harold Van Arman, who has been a member of the special unit, has been added to the inspection staff.

A number of agents, presumably about 12, have been shifted to new offices, the administrator said. He declined, however, to reveal their names or the cities to which they have been transferred.

Happiness is not in getting what you want but in not wanting what you can't get.

"Dry" Agents Raid Binnewater Farm

Tuesday afternoon the federal agents from the Kingston office visited Binnewater. They seized a 190-gallon still in full operation on the old Beach farm near Binnewater. It is claimed the still was used to make applejack and was located in an old barn. The seized property was destroyed and James Jordan arrested. He will be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelley Thursday.

DIVIDENDS DECLARED BY THREE COMPANIES

New York, Aug. 1 (P).—Savage Arms Corporation declared an initial quarterly dividend of 59 cents a share on the new common stock, payable September 1 to holders of record August 15. This places the stock on an annual basis of $2 a share compared with $4 annually on the old stock, which was split two for one. Regular quarterly dividends of $1.75 on the first preferred and $1.50 on the second preferred also were authorized. The company earned $1.32 a share on the common in the first half of 1928, against 78 cents a share in the first half of 1927 on about half the stock now outstanding.

Southwest Gas Utilities Corporation, a consolidation of 22 natural gas distributing systems in Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana, declared an initial dividend of $1.62 on the $5.50 cumulative preferred stock payable today to stock of record July 26.

Shepard Stores, Inc., operating department stores in Boston and Providence, declared an initial dividend of 75 cents a share on the cumulative class "A" stock, payable today to holders of record July 26.

Costly Neck Ornaments
Greeks and Romans of both sexes wore necklaces of gold thickly set with gems. Homer mentions a necklace curiously wrought of gold interlarded with amber. It is recorded that a necklace in the possession of a Hindu monarch about the year 100 A. D. was composed of large pearls and rubies and was valued at 200,000 dinars, or about $500,000 in our money.

Recent Revenues Cautely
The United States biological survey estimates the crop production loss in this country due to rodents alone at approximately $300,000,000 a year.

Daily Activity in Political Arena

By The Associated Press

New York—Senator Moses, announced Republicans will wage vigorous campaign in south, said he is now convinced Hoover has the chance for victory there.

New York—George N. Peck, agricultural leader, discussed plans for organizing term states with National Agricultural Chairman Haskell.

Stanford University, Cal.—Arrangements being made to accommodate crowd of 50,000 at Hoover nomination ceremonies.

Atlanta—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of Methodist Church South, issued statement against Smith, declaring "no one should be beguiled" by assertions that president can't change Eighteenth Amendment.

Washington—Ernest H. Cherrington, of World League Against Alcoholism, warned "old time drys" against supporting Smith for political advantage.

New York—Socialist campaign headquarters quoted statement by Russell C. Lowell, partner in J. P. Morgan & Company, that Hoover is ignorant of finance, exchange and economics; Morgan offices made public letter written to Hoover in 1921 by Lowell in which he said he spoke in "heat and burden" of war, and praised Hoover.

Hostess—Mr. Jenkins, is it really true that you are a bank examiner?

Jenkins—Yes, ma'am. Hostess—Then I wish you'd examine my bank. We've shook it, and shook it, and haven't been able to get a thing out of it!

One disadvantage in being a Christian nation is that it costs so much for an army and navy.

For every rich old duck, there's some sweet young thing who longs to get into the swim.

Ask me another: When does a woman weigh the most? Answer: When she is the heaviest.

The world is growing better so fast one may reasonably expect that within the next thousand years one will not be persecuted for holding a religious belief different from that of the majority.

Who Is He?

Messenger (to newsboy): "Who's the swell guy ye was talkin' to, Jimmie?"

Newsboy: "Aw, him and me's worked together fer years. He's the editor of one of my papers."

Never be too harsh with the young fellow before he had found himself. Nothing's more discordant than a violin being tuned.

Harold: "Mamma, I don't have to eat this egg, do I? It doesn't smell good."

Mother: "Harold, how often must I tell you not to complain about your food? Eat that egg!"

Harold (after a brief pause): "Must I eat the beak, too?"

"Why, I knew him when he wore short pants."

"That's nothing. I knew him when he wore three-cornered ones."

"The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children even unto the third and fourth generation."

Ditto war taxes.

Once upon a time there was a bank clerk, who after receiving the annual pay envelope fattener, said to the manager of his department, "Really sir, the work I'm doing is not worth this much money. You'll just have to withdraw this increase or my conscience will trouble me night and day."

Mrs. Jones (after twenty minutes' conversation): "Well, Mrs. Brown, I must be getting along to the plumber. My husband's home with his thumb on a burst pipe, waiting until he comes."

This is the year when a Democrat knows everything a Republican orator says is not so, and vice versa.

"Tommy," said the teacher, "this is the worst composition in the class and I'm going to write a note to your father, telling him so."

"I don't care," said Tommy, "he wrote it."

Another walleried liar is the man who claims to work for the pure love of the work itself.

Worth Trying.

"The trousers which I have washed for Ike," said his mother, "have shrunk so much that the poor child can hardly put them on."

"Well," answered her friend, looking at Ike, "why not try washing him? He might shrink, too."

There is no such thing as a good girl gone wrong. It's just a bad girl found out.

So far no laying mash has been found to equal cheap eggs.

New Paltz Plans For Celebration In September

Two Hundred Fiftieth Anniversary of Granting of New Paltz Patent and Founding of Huguenot Church to Be Marked by Notable Address—Large Attendance Expected.

There was a meeting of the committee appointed to arrange for the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the granting of the New Paltz Patent by Sir Edmund Andros, and of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Huguenot Church at New Paltz, on Monday afternoon. It was held at the church parsonage, the Rev. Edward B. Miner, the pastor of the church, presiding. There was a full discussion of the entire situation, followed by the appointment of committees.

Among other things, it was decided to invite not only the descendants of all the Huguenot Patentees, but all the Huguenot Societies. They include the Huguenot Society of America, the Huguenot Society of South Carolina, the Huguenot Society of Pennsylvania, the Huguenot Society of New Jersey, the Washington Huguenot Society, the National League of the Huguenot Societies in America, the Huguenot Society of London, La Societe de l'Illustoire du Protestantisme Francaise, and to request all the churches to New Paltz and all of the citizens of the place to participate in the celebration; to endeavor to secure the attendance of the West Point Band which made so brilliant a showing at the Sesqui-centennial celebration of the founding of the state government at Kingston on the 10th of last September.

Attend in Old Fashioned Dress.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Bruyn Hasbrouck, Mrs. Jerome LeFever, Mrs. Jacob Deyo and Miss Mary Deyo was appointed to arrange with the women of New Paltz and of other localities in Ulster county to attend the celebration in the old fashioned dress of the period so far as a dress of that kind could be obtained.

A publicity committee consisting of Miss Elizabeth LeFever, editor of the New Paltz Independent; Mrs. George Doye and Bruyn Hasbrouck was appointed.

The Rev. Edward B. Miner, Abraham E. Jansen, president of the Huguenot Memorial Society; Frank J. LeFever, Bruyn Hasbrouck, B. H. Atteson, the president of the village, and Judge Clearwater were designated, who, together with the trustees of the Reformed Church and the trustees of the Memorial House should constitute the general executive committee.

Miss Mary Deyo of Forest Glen was designated as the secretary of the general committee.

Feature of Civic Ceremony.

It was decided to hold the civic ceremony on the afternoon of the 29th of September, on the triangular space in front of the Memorial House and the monument to the Patentees, at which Judge Clearwater would present to the trustees of the Memorial Association on behalf of Charles D. Deyo of this city, the Jean Hasbrouck Bible brought by Jean Hasbrouck, the patentee, from France, which of course is printed in French. At that time an address relative to the foundation of the village will be delivered by Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck.

Religious Ceremony on Sunday.

On Sunday, the 30th of September, a religious ceremony will be held in the Reformed Church at which an historical address will be delivered by the Rev. W. H. S. Demarest, D. D., president of the Theological Seminary of New Brunswick, and by the representatives of the various Huguenot Societies to whom invitations will be extended. It is proposed to make this celebration one of the most memorable of the historical celebrations of the time.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Ada Hogan of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hutchings and Miss Angie Hutchings of Bayard street motored to Glens Falls today and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robinson.

Suppressing Outlaw Hunters

Sportsmen Work With Farmers to Protect Property on Which They Hunt—Chief League of Conservation Department Discusses the Trespass Law.

Albany, Aug. 1.—How the trespass law has operated to protect farm property rights was told by Lewis H. Leake, chief game inspector of the Conservation Department, in a radio talk broadcast from WGY last night, the talk being part of the program for National Week. In the course of his talk Chief Leake said:

"In the early years, that have elapsed since the enactment of Chapter 400 of the laws of 1921, the so-called Betts law, some of the hunters, they used to go to the farmer, they didn't do any more, at least not to the extent that they formerly did.

"The main purpose of the Betts law, which was an amendment to the Conservation law, was to prevent encroachments upon the lands of farmers by hunters, trappers and fishermen.

"The thoughtless disregard of the rights of the owners of the land on which they hunted by many hunters in certain sections of the state had become an abuse, the correction of which was sought through an amendment to part eleven of the conservation law for the protection of private land by permitting the posting of such land against hunting and fishing, and making any trespasser on such posted lands guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of from $10 to $100 or to a penalty of $50, half of which was to be paid to the owner of the lands on which the offense was committed. The conservation law also provides that if any hunter or fisherman, while hunting on the lands of another, cut, destroyed or damaged any bars, gates or fences, he was guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a like penalty.

"There was naturally a good deal of resentment aroused by the enactment of this law among sportsmen who had been hunting for years without committing any of the depredations that led to the enactment of this law, both who, in common with the real offenders, saw themselves in danger of being debarred from the enjoyment of their hunting privileges.

Benefits Sportsmen and Hunters.

"Seven years have now elapsed since the enactment of this law, and I think it is fair to state that in the main it has worked for the good of both the sportsmen and the farmer. It has not in every instance produced ideal conditions. I don't know of any law that has. It helped to teach the difference between mine and thine and that we are all of us to a greater or lesser extent our brother's keepers.

"Leading sportsmen throughout the state were quick to see that if farm lands generally were barred to hunters, it would pretty quickly mean the end of public hunting, and that hunters were not to be debarred from the privilege of hunting upon privately owned lands, it was up to the sportsmen to see that the owners of such lands were protected within their rights. In other words, that where they were admitted to the privilege of hunting over a man's lands, they would see to it that neither those lands, nor the fences, stock, crops or anything else that was on them, received any damage as the result of the granting of this privilege. It is rather a noteworthy fact that where the sportsmen were the best organized, the prohibitive provisions of the Betts law were least often invoked.

Interests Do Not Conflict.

"In a speech before the Dutchess County Sportsmen's Association, Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald soon after the enactment of the original Betts law, said:

"There are people who believe that the interests of the sportsman and the farmer conflict. I believe that the interests of the sportsman and the farmer, from the standpoint of conservation, are identical and present no problems that cannot be adjusted. The law which permits the posting of farm lands against hunters appears to support the contention that the interests of the sportsman and the farmer are identical, but the fact that the great majority of the farmers of the state have not availed themselves of that privilege is to my mind an indication that they have not had occasion to feel antagonistic toward sportsmen. All hunters are not sportsmen. I hope the time will come when they all will be.

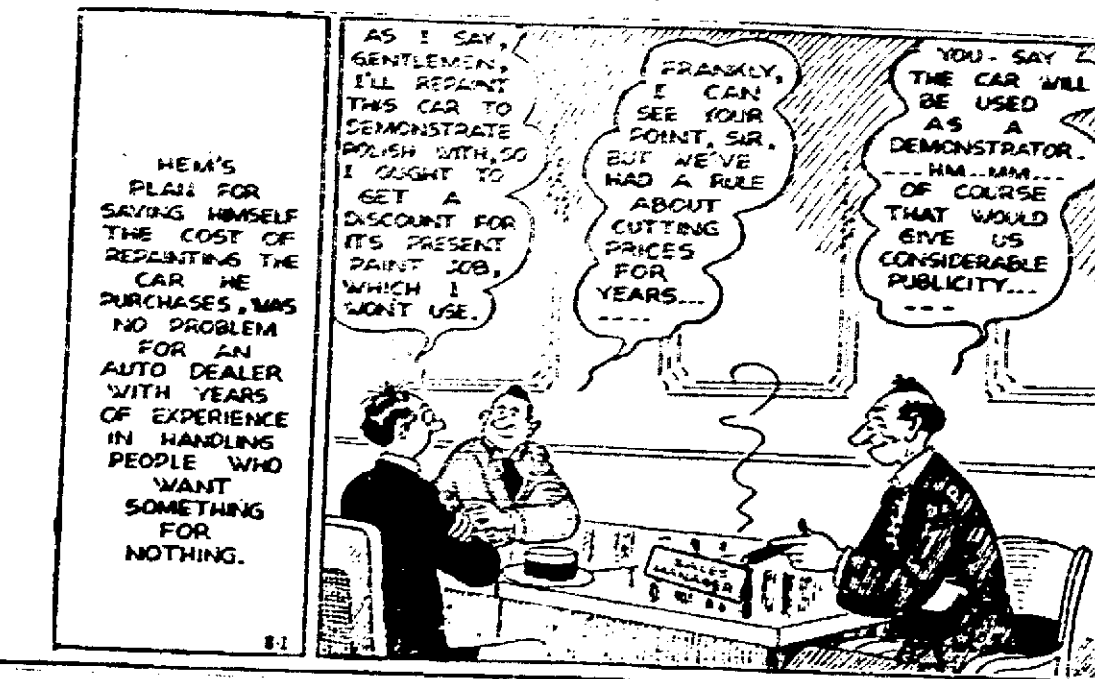

"There is an opportunity for closer cooperation between sportsmen's organizations and farmers that will be of inestimable benefit to both, and a movement to that end is already under way. I have in mind one club that has taken an advanced position in this matter by offering a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of anyone caught injuring property while hunting on it, and every member of that club will earn that reward if he gets a chance.

Sportsmen Suffer for Others' Sins.

"On another occasion, at the annual meeting of the Fish, Game and Forest League, the largest organization of sportsmen's clubs in the state, at Watertown, Commissioner Macdonald said:

"Most of the game that is taken

GAS GUGGLES—Six Of One, Half A Dozen Of Another.

In New York state is on privately owned land and hunting depends upon the good will of the owner. In some parts of the state farmers have suffered severely from the trespasses committed upon their lands, and as a result we have the law which provides for the posting of private land. Some of these trespasses resulted from a careless disregard of the rights of the owners, and some were pure vandalism.

"What percentage of these trespasses was chargeable to hunters? I do not know, but very many of them consisted of thefts of fruit from farmers' orchards by automobilists from the city and had nothing whatever to do with hunting. The innocent hunter, however, suffered with the guilty, and thousands of sportsmen who never left a gate open or a bar down or in any way disregarded the rights of the man on whose ground he hunted are today confronted by 'No Trespass' signs for the sins of others.

"Here, it seems to me, is an important field for education that can be worked by the sportsmen with profit to themselves and to all who enjoy a day in the open. I presume many of you are doing this very thing. I know of clubs that put up signs throughout the entire territory covered by their activities warning all persons against injuring property and a number of clubs offering rewards for the arrest of anyone caught doing any damage in farmers' lands. The careless hunter and the vandal must be educated or suppressed if sport is to have a fair chance, and the chief burden of this job is going to be borne by the organized sportsmen.

Sanctuaries Mean More Game.

"Another factor that is operating to the advantage of both farmers and sportsmen is the game refuge, or sanctuary. A number of these have been established and when they are in full working order it will mean more game for the hunters and less annoyance for the farmer. While these game refuges and their adjacent public hunting grounds cannot, strictly speaking be considered an outcome of the Betts law, they are a logical development of the state's policy of maintaining public hunting and will serve very materially to lessen the pressure upon the farmer and private landowner."

So long as there are small boys there will be no friendless dogs.

MIDDLETOWN WOMAN HAS HARROWING EXPERIENCE.

Cleopatra, 22-year-old wife of Charles A. Finch of Middletown, was assaulted by two men Saturday night after being taken from her car at the point of a gun. Isadore Rosen, who was riding in the car, was ordered to "move on," while Mrs. Finch was forced into her assailants' auto. Rosen, who is employed by a company of which Mrs. Finch's husband is the head, notified the police. Mrs. Finch escaped from her captors after undergoing a harrowing experience and "phoned for the police from a farm house. One of the men who attacked the woman had his legs cut off at the knees, it was said. This seems to be the only clue the police have to work on.

MT. TREMPER.

Mr. Tremper, Aug. 1.—The church fair is to be held on Thursday afternoon and evening, August 2. Many fancy and useful articles will be for sale and an appetizing supper will be served. All are invited to attend.

Mrs. John Davidson and children and Miss Beth Davidson and little sister of New York city are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boerker and family of Kingston visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Boerker one day last week.

Miss Ruth DeVall spent the week end with her cousin, Mrs. Norman Wilber. Ruth and Norman Wilber who were visiting in New York for two weeks, returned home with her.

Mrs. Mary of Rhinebeck is visiting Mrs. Grace Randall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Lester M. Finley and sons of Kingston were callers at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilber Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Kenneth Warren of Beechford Farms spent Tuesday with her sisters, the Misses Randall.

Miss Higgins and a friend are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Higgins and family.

Mrs. Pary and family are at their summer home.

Mrs. Shanley and daughters of New York are occupying Mr. Higgins's cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey DeVall, Norvin Lasher and daughter, Lois, of Woodstock, called at Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Wilber's Sunday. Miss Ruth DeVall returned home with them.

A number of city people are at the different boarding houses and nearly all of the cottages are occupied.

Hay Fever

Home Treatment

If you want a really effective treatment for Hay or Rose Fever go right to McBride's Drug Stores and ask for a bottle of Opex. Spray the nostrils two or three times a day—often if necessary. You'll be surprised and delighted—not only will Opex soothe and heal the raw inflamed membrane, but it will promptly stop the humiliating discharge. If it fails, get your money back. The price is but $1.00 and McBride's Drug Stores will gladly tell you all about it.

Summer Colds

FOR quick relief from those annoying colds in the head that linger so in summer, melt some Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of hot water and inhale the vapors. Also place some Vicks in the nostrils and snuff well up the nose. It quickly soothes the inflamed membrane, and clears the head—without "dosing."

USE Quicura Soap DAILY as a health measure.

two Champions in one TYDOL & ETHYL

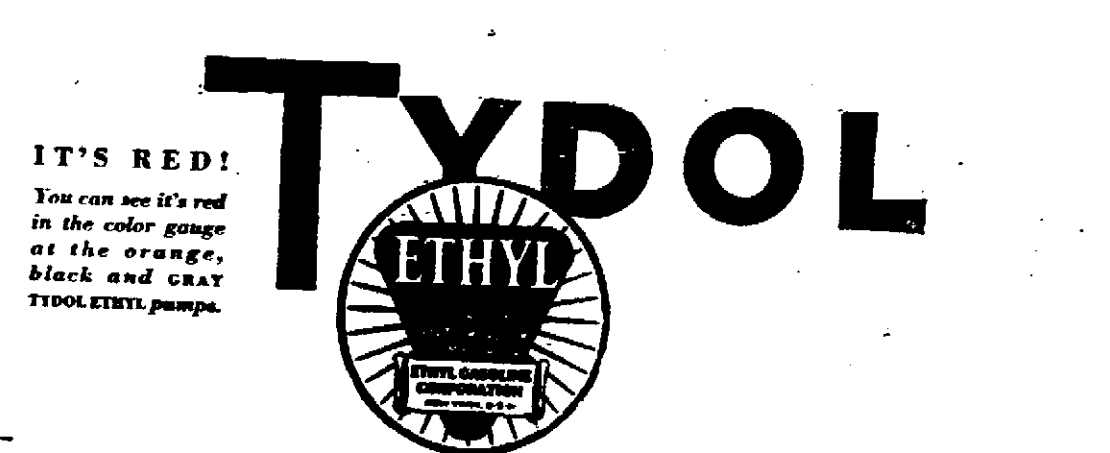

Like adding Tommy Loughran's speed to Leo Diegel's smooth control!

What a combination . . . if you could merge those two in one! Like adding Walter Johnson's pitching arm to Joie Ray's flying feet . . . like adding Babe Ruth's mighty swat to Bobby Jones' accuracy.

That's the kind of a combination the motorist gets in TYDOL ETHYL. Tydol, the super-gasoline . . . blended with Ethyl, the perfect anti-knock fuel. Two champions in one.

With TYDOL ETHYL you can drive in high, and give her the gun, in any stress or strain of traffic or hill-climbing, without gear-shifting or spark retarding. And without knock!

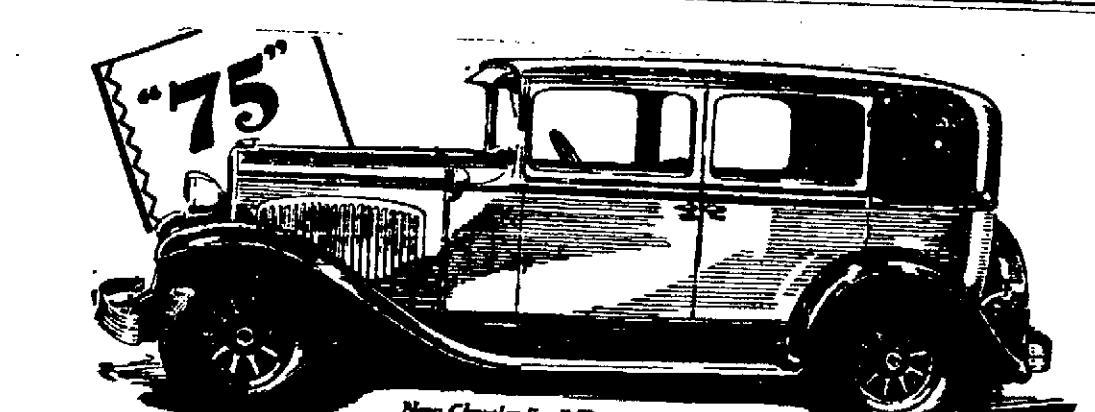

TYDOL ETHYL acts like a lullaby in quieting noise, and like an elixir in pepping up carbonized motors. What a combination!

NEW PALTZ

New Palz, Aug. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. Ezekiel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and son met with a serious automobile accident last Sunday afternoon while returning home from a trip to Albany. The accident occurred about five miles north of Saugerties. An autoist was coming down hill towards them intending to pass between them and a north bound car ahead of him.

When he saw that he could not do it he put on his brakes suddenly and his car was traveling at such a high rate of speed that it was thrown across the road against the front of Raymond Miller's car, wrecking the Miller car. Raymond received a bad cut on his forehead and his wife a bad cut on the top of her head. Ezekiel Miller escaped with some scratches and bruises. His wife had her left leg badly lacerated. The little boy fortunately escaped without injuries. Their injuries were temporarily cared for by a woman who had been a nurse and had a first aid kit with her. The Millers were taken to the Maxwell Hotel at Saugerties, where their injuries were cared for by a doctor. Ezekiel Miller telephoned to his son, Harold, to come for them with his car after the doctor had attended to their wounds. The accident occurred between half past five and six o'clock and they were not ready to start for home until eleven.

Reinald Keys, formerly connected with the construction work of the New York city water supply, who has been for the past three years designing and constructing a water works system for the city of Athens, Greece, is spending a short vacation in the United States and the past week has been visiting friends in this village.

William Bloomer has rented his store on upper Main street to parties from out of town who will take possession soon.

William Miller, who was injured by having the wheel of a truck run over his foot, is improving.

At the annual Library Association meeting July 9, the following officers were elected: President, Edward C. Elmore; treasurer, Mrs. D. V. Z. Bogert; secretary, Miss Helen H. Brock.

COOL HOUSEKEEPING — OUTDOORS

Housekeeping problems taken out of doors become picnics. For summer brings picnics and picnics mean lunches. The feature of a successful picnic demands that the bill of fare include something unusual. That's where a hot dish, served out in the open, makes a red letter picnic meal.

You can serve hot dishes miles from home with the Corona Automobile Lunch Kit, and carry your lunch in a compact form. It consists of, 1 Corona electric cooker, 4 aluminum plates, 4 each teaspoons, knives and forks, 1 quart vacuum bottle with 4 nested cups and 1 carrying case. The meal is started at home in the Corona electric cooker and then it cooks on stored heat while you are traveling to the picnic grounds. During August there is a special price of $14.95, or on convenient terms. See them demonstrated on our sales floor.

Rickard's Plan of Elimination for Tunney Successor

Will Set the Six Outstanding Contenders to Work in September—Many Believe Dempsey Can Defeat Every Contender Now On the Horizon.

New York, Aug. 1 (AP)—The heavyweights lacked a king today, but the machinery for the selection of a successor to the throne was set up and ready for action.

By voluntary abdication, Gene Tunney, who rose from the obscurity of a bank clerk to the prominence of king of fighters, has vacated his throne and returned to private life.

He becomes the second heavy-weight titleholder to decide that the prize holds nothing more for him, but unlike the confusion that followed the retirement of Jim Jeffries in 1905, Gene leaves behind him, as a heritage, a well-ordered plan designed to choose from all the contenders a logical successor to the crown.

Into the hands of Tex Rickard, the retiring champion has placed the responsibility of conducting an elimination tournament, international in scope, out of which he hopes, will come the man most fitted to wear the now discarded robes of title royalty. As another parting gift, Tunney will place in the hands of a committee of 26, headed by Rickard and William Muldoon, New York state athletic commissioner, a trophy on which will be inscribed the names of each predecessor and the successor to Gene's crown.

Even as Tunney's retirement became known, the shadow of the old Manassas Mauler, Jack Dempsey, fell once more across the heavy-weight picture—an ominous sign for other front-rank contenders.

Beaten twice by Tunney, Dempsey announced his own retirement from the ring some months ago, but with Tunney, his arch-nemesis, no longer an obstacle, there were many who thought that the great slugger would reconsider and that before another year has passed the conqueror of Willard, Firpo, Carpentier, Brennan and Gibbons once more will be found in his corner, scowling ferociously at an opponent.

Few Doubt Dempsey's Ability

And there were few who seriously doubt that Dempsey, despite his age, still can defeat virtually every heavy-weight contender now on the horizon. When Dempsey decided on a comeback after he was relieved of his crown by Tunney at Philadelphia in 1926, he was pitted against Jack Sharkey, then considered the man most likely to knock Gene's title from his head. Dempsey knocked out Sharkey in seven rounds and then came within an ace of regaining his title from Tunney at Chicago, flooring the champion in the seventh round, the first time Gene ever had been knocked down.

Just now Dempsey is tied up in a theatrical venture with David Belasco until spring. When that contract is fulfilled there is at least a chance that he will return to the ring and see if his second comeback can not terminate more successfully than did his first.

Rickard plans to begin his elimination series next month, drawing his candidates from among such fighters as Johnny Risko, Tom Heeney, Paulino Uzcudun, Sharkey, Knute Hansen and Phil Scott.

Six Outstanding Contenders.

"Just now there are only about six outstanding heavy-weight contenders in the country," said Tex. "I will set them to work in September in the first of the series of eliminations. In the meantime I want the entries of at least 20 other heavyweights throughout the country. All will get chances to prove their worth in eight or ten round bouts. I will have until September to find the pair to fight in the final for the title."

"I have no idea yet who will start the show, although I may pair Sharkey and Paulino for a match some time in September. Risko must be considered along with Heeney, Hansen and Scott."

"It is very likely, however, that the eliminations or the regular round of boxing throughout the country will produce two men the public hasn't heard of yet. The heavy-weight division needs new blood. This is the best way to get it."

Rickard apparently has left one man out of the picture who is determined to crash into it—Tommy Loughran, light heavy-weight titleholder. Tommy announced at Woodcliff, N. J., yesterday that he would file with the New York and Pennsylvania Boxing Commissions his claim for the vacant title. He added he would be willing to fight through any elimination tournament that might be staged.

All these arrangements for filling the title contrast sharply with the situation that existed after Jeffries retired. The boiler-maker passed his title to Marvin Hart but Hart was beaten by Tommy Burns, the Canadian. Then came Jack Johnson, the great negro boxer, to win the championship from Burns and retain it until he was beaten by Jess Willard at Havana in 1915. Jeffries, called out of retirement to restore the title to the white race, was knocked out by the clever negro on July 4, 1910.

Perhaps Tunney will be able to stay in retirement. It would be interesting, however, to discover whether Gene would turn down a chance to regain his title should Dempsey fight his way through the contenders and emerge on top of the most he ruled from 1919 to 1926.

Tagging Major League Bases

By Herbert W. Barker
Associated Press Staff Writer

GROG and reeling from a succession of rife blows suffered since they invaded the west, the Yanks temporarily at least have checked a promising losing streak—promising, that is, to the rest of the American League.

After taking three straight on the chin at Cleveland, the champions turned on their tormentors yesterday and beat the Indians, 12 to 9, in a wild battle. This victory profited the Yankees nothing, however, except to keep the Philadelphia Athletics, riding the crest of an eight-game winning streak, five and a half games away from them in the standings.

The Yankee pitchers did everything in their power to hand the Indians their fourth straight but Cleveland, out of pure generosity, declined the gift. Walter Hoyt and Wiley Moore both were pounded out of the box and Herb Pennock was not especially effective. On the other hand, five Cleveland hurlers performed even worse and four Indian infield errors did no good, so far as could be noticed from the grandstands. Johnny Mitchell, notorious for having wild-pitched away the last game of the 1927 world's series, was one of Cleveland's five moundmen and was the best of the lot.

For the fourth straight day and the ninth straight time, the Athletics beat the Browns. The score was 8 to 4. Six home runs featured the battle, two by Haas of the Mackmen. Lefty Grove was effective enough in the pinches, although the Browns hit him frequently.

Taking over the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 2, the Detroit Tigers registered their seventh victory in their last eight games. Vic Sorrell held Carlin's crew to four hits, one of them a home run by Charlie Ruffing. Ted Blankenship blew up in the eighth inning when the Washington Senators scored four runs, but the Chicago White Sox already had piled up a six-run lead and eventually came out on the long end of a 7 to 5 score.

The St. Louis Cardinals stretched their National League lead to five games by pounding the Phillies into submission, 18 to 8, getting 16 of their runs in four successive innings. Sand, Phil shortstop, pulled one of the prize "boners" of the season, when thinking there were three out in the fifth inning, he threw the ball into the diamond, Haas scoring all the way from first base. This incident seemed to cause the Phils to go to pieces and the rout was on. Douthett got five hits during the day.

Jakie May weakened in the late innings and Brooklyn beat the second place Reds, 3 to 2, and moved back into fifth place in the standing as the Pittsburgh Pirates were losing to Boston. Vance allowed seven hits and struck out eight.

The New York Giants and Chicago Cubs divided two at the Polo Grounds. The Giants won the first, 8 to 7, by scoring five runs in the ninth inning. Charley Root set down the Giants in the nightcap, 10 to 4. Meadows and Brame were hit hard at Boston where the Braves' downed the Corsairs, 11 to 5. Meadows was rocked for five runs in the first inning and Brame for four in the third.

Woodcliff Bouts
Two Days Off

The 34-round program of boxing to be staged by local promoters at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie, is just two days off. The going to start the curtain raiser will clang at 8:15 Thursday evening when two fast little scrappers will push leather into each other's anatomy for supremacy. It is anticipated that a large assemblage will witness the battles, which promise plenty of action.

Occupying a goodly number of seats in the new stadium at Woodcliff, which will accommodate 4,000, are expected to be many Kingstonians. Rooters for Joe Vossick, who trains at Doc Studer's gym here, are expected to flock to Poughkeepsie for the scrap he will have with Al Ferrone of Beacon. The tilt, scheduled for six rounds, will be a thriller, it is said. Frankie "Kayo" Konchinski will meet Charlie Eck of Syracuse in the feature 10-rounder.

Arrangements have been made by the management to have the last ferry leave Poughkeepsie at 11:30 Thursday night so that fans from Kingston may cross the Hudson after the matches, which will end at about 11:10.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Boston—Ernie Schaff, Boston, outpointed Harold Mays, Bayonne, N. J., (10). Big Bill Hartwell, Kansas City, knocked out Lee Anderson, Berlin, N. H., (8).

New York—Maxie Rosenbloom, New York, won over Ted Kid Lewis, England, by disqualification, (6). Johnny Sherrod, Fort Worth, Texas, and Billy Showers, St. Paul, drew, (8). Floyd Hybert, Cleveland, beat Johnny Gerardin, Minneapolis, (8). Jackie Stewart, Louisville, outpointed Knowles, Chicago, (8). Mickey McLaughlin, Chicago, defeated Rusty Jones, St. Paul, (5).

Portland, Me.—Tommy O'Toole, Maine, defeated Happy Jacono, Navy, (12). Joe Phann knocked out Jeff Mason, (1).

Yellow Jackets To Play This Year

Kingston will be represented on the gridiron during the coming football season by the Yellow Jackets.

It was decided at a meeting of the club held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening. Plenty of talent appeared at the meeting to form a sterling eleven for the fast approaching season of the pigskin sport. The Yellow Jackets have not lost a game in three years and as most of the players are back, augmented by promising recruits, the team should fare well this year.

Not much was done at the meeting other than getting the opinion of the men concerning the formation of a team this year. As all expressed the wish that the Yellow Jackets enter the field, another meeting to make definite plans will be held Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. At this time a captain, manager and coach will likely be selected.

It is expected that Carlton S. Preston, who built up a winning team last year, will coach the Yellow Jackets again this season. Mr. Preston is interested in the sport of football and his knowledge of the game, obtained through practical experience, and the way he can convey it to others, is expected to serve the local eleven in a great measure this year.

Manager Bill Dwyer and Captain Earl McLane of last year's team were unable to attend the meeting. Steve Rose and "Big" Bill O'Reilly conducted the session. These members of last year's aggregation were accompanied at the meeting by Ed Leverett, A. Milliken, Stan Colvin, Joe Hoffman and Paul Howard, who played on the Yellow Jackets.

Addison Schultz, Earl McLane, Lee Hasbrouck, Len O'Reilly, Harry Scheffel, Fred Ehnes, John Cirose, "Red" Carroll and Vince Rice, all of whom were members of the Yellow Jackets last season, have consented to play again this year.

Phil McDonald and Ernie Smith, who played with the Kingston High School varsity football team last season, were at the meeting and will try for berths on the Yellow Jackets. McDonald is a lineman, and a good one, too, according to past performance. Smith specializes in playing end. He will make good as a Yellow Jacket if his past record is to be used as a judging factor.

The cities of the lower Hudson region contemplate putting eleven in the field of competition next season. Some fine football players are available in this section and games will probably be arranged with the Yellow Jackets. Owing to the popularity created by the winning team of Kingston the Yellow Jackets will likely receive calls to play many out-of-town games. Last year Manager Dwyer received challenges from teams as far west as Illinois.

RED SOX WHITEWASHED
BY RONDOUT A. C.

The Rondout A. C. blanked the Red Sox, 14-0, at Block Park in a seven-inning session Tuesday evening. Joe Coughlin was on the mound for the winning team and allowed the Sox one single. He sent seven batters to the showers. The Rondouts broke out in a hitting spree in the third inning. Up until this session McDaniels held the Goinekmen well, but when the stanza ended eight runs had been collected. Fisher relieved him and allowed two runs in each of the three innings which followed. Twenty hits were collected by the Rondouts, several of which were good for extra bases.

CLERMONT VS. RED SOX FOR LEGION CORPS BENEFIT

The Clermonts and the Red Sox will play a benefit game of baseball for the American Legion Drum Corps Sunday afternoon at Hasbrouck Park. These two clubs are among a number of which have volunteered to help raise funds to send the Legion Drum Corps to the national convention to be held at San Antonio, Texas. A number of games are scheduled for the purpose in the near future. All proceeds of the games will be donated to the Legion. Mathela, Dunn or Best will hurl for the Clermonts Sunday. McDaniels will likely pitch for the Red Sox.

The Cincinnati Reds are a team of comparative midgets—which is in line with Manager Hendricks' belief that short men are faster than tall ones.

The Waterbury club of the Eastern League announces the purchase of Walter Kimmick, former Cincinnati infielder, from Mobile of the Southern league.

Babe Ruth says the umpires are fair, square and 99 per cent right. The Ham is conservative, of course, as he may have to growl at a decision some day himself.

Although the general impression prevails that Tom Zachary, Washington hurler, is one of the oldest men in the big leagues, the record book shows he was born on March 7, 1907.

Dick Wade, a member of the Nashville Vols in the Southern league, established what is believed to be a world's record at Nashville when he hit four consecutive home runs.

Babe Ruth is believed to have the heaviest bat made. While the average bat used by other players is from 25 ounces to 40 ounces, the great home-run slugger uses one weighing 52 ounces.

Great things are predicted of Lefty Wellman, pitcher the White Sox bought from Moline. Wellman attracted the scouts when he fanned 30 in three straight games. He reports this fall.

U. S. Olympic Team Slipping

Faces Prospects of Faring Worse Than Ever Before—Edge Is Gone and They Lack Stamina, Declares Coach.

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Amsterdam, Holland, Aug. 1 (AP)—Unless there's a startling turn for the better, America faces the imminent prospect of faring worse than ever before in Olympic track and field events.

While Yankee brawn and skill in the field has been piling up a commanding point lead for the runners and hurdlers have suffered a smashing series of reversals. The Americans thought they had reached the low ebb at Paris four years ago when they won only one track race—the 200 meters—and five track events altogether, including the relays and the hurdles. They haven't been better than second in any race in the present Olympiad so far, and have finished that well only once outside of the women's events.

Outside of the prospects in today's two finals—the 110 meter hurdles and the 200 meter dash—the chief hopes of averting an American shut-out on the track appear to rest in the 400 meters flat, where Ray Barbuti, former Syracuse star, and Joe Tierney, of the New York A. C., have been going well, and in the marathon, where Joie Ray leads the best team America has ever had in this feature.

These bright prospects, however, may fade as have others. The Yankees entered today's races with the new world's record-holder in the hurdles, G. C. Weightman-Smith, of South Africa, to beat, and the German flier, Helmut Koernig, who equalled the Olympic record in the trials, as a 200-meter obstacle for Jackson V. Scholz, Charley Paddock and Henry Cummings.

The 400 meter runners especially face none too pleasant a prospect. The field against them includes such stars as Douglas Lowe, Briton, who beat Lord Hahn, Sera Martin, the world's record-holder, and six others in a thrilling battle in the 800 meters yesterday.

"Naturally we are sorely disappointed at our showing so far," declared head coach Lawson Robertson. "Any excuses will sound like alibis, so I hate to make them; but two things account for these upsets. The first is lack of good conditioning facilities after our sea trip. The boys used half a dozen tracks without getting a real first class workout after landing. You see the result—the edge is gone and they lack stamina."

"The other explanation is the faster competition. More nations have entered better men this time than ever before. Another factor is that all our men are marked. These fellows would rather beat one American than half a dozen others, so they put everything they have into the race when racing a Yankee."

Olympics in A Nutshell

(By the Associated Press.)

Today's program:
200-meter dash—Semi-finals and finals.
110-meter hurdles—Finals.
Pole vault—Trials and finals.
3,000-meter steeplechase—Trials.
1,500-meter run—Trials.
800-meter run (women)—Trials.

Yesterday's features:
Douglas Lowe, Great Britain, broke Olympic record to win 800-meter final. Lloyd Hahn finished fifth.
Ed Hamm United States, broad-jumped 25 feet, 4 1/4 inches, to break Olympic mark and win championship. Alf Bates, Penn State, finished third.

Chicago girl, Elizabeth Robinson, captured 100-meter title for women in world's record time of 12 1/5 seconds.
Lillian Copeland, California, was second in discus throw for women won by Halina Konopacka, Poland, with new world's mark of 123 feet, 11 1/2 inches.

Leighton Dye and Steve Anderson, Americans, qualified for 110-meter hurdles finals but individual honors went to G. C. Weightman-Smith, South Africa, who broke world's record by stepping distance in 14 3/5 seconds.
Charley Borah eliminated in 200-meter trials but Paddock, Scholz and Cummings qualified. Koernig, German ace, equalled world's record of 21 3/5 in one heat.

Leo Leonard and Mac Smith survived 5,000 meters qualifying test.
Arrille Morrison, University of Illinois, won only American victory in catch-as-catch-can wrestling finals.
Foil fencing championship went to Italy.

Leading point scores: United States 71; Great Britain 29; Sweden 21; Germany 18; Finland 17.

"Old Ironsides" Grows Young As Workers Toil On Famed Ship

About seventy per cent of the frigate "Constitution" will be of new construction when the vessel, ravaged by the decay of 132 years, has been reconducted and floated again. Lieut. John A. Lord (right) is in charge of rebuilding the ship, shown at the left in drydock at the Boston Navy yard. Below is reproduced a sketch of the historic craft when it was the pride of the American navy.

Boston, Aug. 1 (AP).—Shedding the decay of 132 years, "Old Ironsides" is growing young again.

As the days pass in the drydock at the Boston Navy Yard the old frigate feels new ribs forming in her massive frame, new strength growing in her ancient hull.

But renewing the youth of the Constitution is a herculean task. Lieut. John A. Lord, U. S. N., chief master builder of such steel superdreadnaughts as the New York and the Arizona and designer and builder of wooden craft, too, is surgeon-in-charge of the operation.

Lieutenant Lord says the task in hand is like no other ever undertaken in marine engineering. Seventy per cent of the ship must be replaced, including her most vital parts. Original methods had to be devised, for she had reached a state of almost complete decay.

Lord has put two years of planning into the work now being carried forward. All he had to begin with was a drydock. Wooden ship-building at the yard ended 50 years ago. An improvised shipyard had to be assembled, with shops, lumber, sawmills and planing machine. From the wooden shipyards of his home state, Maine, he assembled a small but expert force of workers. These were augmented with Navy Yard workers, specially qualified.

Some of the equipment is quite ancient, as machinery goes. A futtock saw, brought in from Portsmouth, N. H., to saw out those crooked timbers which, scarfed together, make the ship's ribs, is 70 years old.

Where she lies in drydock now, the dismantled hull of the famous fighting ship is almost lost behind a screen of scaffolding and bracing. A cradle had to be thrust tightly about her bottom to hold her firmly together—a new method.

Within the ship, too, a small forest of braces and shoring has sprung up between the four decks. As he clambered up and down ladders, through hatches and down into the bottom-most part of the ship, Lieutenant Lord explained that all this was necessary. The danger of collapse has to be reckoned with in every step of the work, as decayed supporting timbers are removed and replaced by sturdy wooden beams. In the bow, the sides are held together by a mass of steel cables.

The work is like reconstructing a worn-out four-story building in which the first floor must be torn out and repaired first.

In the bottom a new keelson was installed, which with a sister keelson, makes the ship's center-line longitudinal strength 50 per cent greater. New futtocks fashioned of live-oak from Florida, kept for 72 years under water, are placed between the frame-ribs before the old are removed. All is bolted together, with bar-copper everywhere replacing iron. Where the new cross-rottened "ceiling" or inner planking approaches the berth deck, the old craft's lines are as fair and pretty as those of any maiden ship waiting launching.

From Delaware have come great carved white-oak roots, and from West Virginia, long, straight white oak timbers. With modern methods of preservation, the rebuilt Constitution should have a larger life than she had in prospect when first built. England has locked up Lord Nelson's flagship Victory in a dry dock. But ever after repairs she will never sail the high seas again.

"The Constitution," says Lieutenant Lord, "nearly as old and in a similar decayed condition, will be fully restored, permitting her to appear again on the high seas, fully equipped and rigged, staunch and seaworthy, in all her glory."

Little Band-Wagon Journeys

By L. T. MERRILL

17.—The Divided Democracy in 1860

NOT ON 1924 did the Democratic party in any national convention pick a man for a nomination as in its fateful convention of 1860 that was destined to wreck up the party and destroy its growth for the next two decades, as well as having a direct effect in causing the "irrepressible conflict" and dividing the nation in a bloody civil war.

The show-down on the issue of slavery in the last prewar Democratic convention probably was inevitable. Stephen A. Douglas, the "little giant" of Illinois who had been elected senator from his state in 1858 following his memorable series of public debates with Abraham Lincoln, represented the point of view of the northern wing of the Democratic party, with a demand for "popular sovereignty" on the question of slavery in the territories.

The southern wing of the party stood staunchly in defense of slavery and against any measures taken to curb its asserted rights of extension. They succeeded for the first time in having the convention of the party held in the heart of the South, at Charleston, S. C., surrounded by the strongest of proslavery influences.

Even in a stronghold of slavery, South Carolina journals professed to fear that a Douglas clique would be imported in sufficient numbers to influence the convention unduly. Charleston papers said they hoped that northern partisans who were not actually delegates would stay away from the gathering, and in the enterprise of keeping them away, the Charleston hotel and inn keepers co-operated by raising their rates to almost prohibitory figures for those days. The newspapers exulted when it was noted that fewer than 1,500 outsiders had come to the convention under these circumstances and gave ungrudging credit to the patriotic bonifaces.

Enough Douglas supporters were present, however, to make a demonstration. But when Yankee delegates tried to march through the streets of the convention city headed by a New York military band, they were forbidden to do so by the authorities, who asserted such a demonstration would be contrary to the municipal law which forbade band playing after ten o'clock at night lest the drums be mistaken for the dread alarm signal of a slave uprising.

Signs of an ominous cleavage along sectional lines, already evident before the convention met, were fully verified from the first in its sessions. For ten days the convention wrangled over nearly every subject that arose. Threats of bolting were flung about by the southerners early in the proceedings. These threats actually were carried out when the northern wing of the party refused to approve a platform plank upholding the principle of the Supreme court's famous Dred Scott decision favorable to slave holders.

At this a large bloc of delegates from Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Texas, Louisiana, South Carolina, Georgia and a few from Arkansas, Delaware and North Carolina stalked out of the convention, not to return. The fact that the remaining delegates insisted upon a nomination being made by a two-thirds vote of the original number, in accordance with the traditional rule of the party, augmented difficulties of trying to agree on a nomination after the bolters had left.

Through 57 ballots, a record number up to that time, the convention battled, with Douglas always in the lead, but with his greatest strength on any ballot only 152½, while 202 were necessary for a choice. Finally, on the tenth day, despairing of any possibility of making a nomination the convention voted to adjourn and meet two months later at Baltimore.

When the Baltimore convention assembled, a temporary flooring in the parquet of the theater where the sessions were held collapsed at the center, rolling the delegates down into a scrambling mass. The opposition press commented upon this incident as an ominous portent of the forthcoming dropping out of the bottom of the party—nor was such prophecy idle. Convention discussions of 1860 hopelessly split the party, resulted in two Democratic tickets being put into the field, and contributed to the first Republican victory that put Abraham Lincoln into the White House and led to the secession of the South.

Pocket Sundial

A pocket sundial is among the many curios in the collection at Old Court house, Hampton Court, England, where Christopher Wren lived.

It had a hinged style with a movable pointer. At the top end is a compass and on the back are the names of several towns in various countries, each indicated by a number. To tell the time at any particular place, the number of the town is ascertained from the list at the back, and the style adjusted so that the pointer corresponds to the number of the town. The dial is then turned so that it faces north, and the time is given on the dial.

Airplane Noises

The air corps says that the noise made by an airplane in flight is caused largely by the exhaust of the engine and to a lesser degree by the propeller and by the passage of the air over the wings and between the struts and

Raising Funds to Build Railroads

San Fo, Chinese Minister, Here to Raise Funds For Building of Railroads in His Country—Tells of His Problems.

New York, Aug. 1 (P).—Mr. Sun Fo, Chinese minister of reconstruction, today said the new National government will assume full responsibility for the long list of public and private loans now in default and attempt to reach satisfactory adjustments.

Mr. Sun Fo, son of the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, first president of China, is here to raise funds for the building of railroads in his country and to finance other important economic projects. He has been in Europe explaining to bankers there the new government's scheme for reconstruction.

Mr. Sun predicted serious trouble in the three northern provinces "unless Japan ceases any program she may have for annexing them."

He said, however, that the nationalist government would welcome a chance to negotiate a settlement of Manchurian problems with Japan and was sure that China would agree to "any reasonable interpretation" of Japan's special position.

Manchuria as Sphere of Influence.
"Would that mean that Manchuria would be allowed to stand as Japan's sphere of influence?" he was asked. "It might amount to that," Dr. Sun said, "although we do not intend to countenance any more partitioning of China in the old sense. We would undertake to guarantee Japanese interests against interference but Japan would not be allowed to maintain troops in Manchuria or concern herself with civil government."

The greatest problem of China, next to that of reconstruction, Dr. Sun believed, was to decide on a permanent form of government. Nominally, he said, China was still a republic as it had been since his father led the successful revolt against the emperor in 1911 but there was considerable readjustment and public education needed to make it entirely successful.

Missionaries Must Change Attitude.
Mr. Sun believes there must be a fundamental change in the activities of Christian missionaries, especially as it refers to foreign schools.

"China enjoys absolute freedom of worship," he said, "we do not care what faith or denomination opens a church. But schools have been placed in a special category by Nanking. Education is one of our chief problems and the control of education must stay with the Chinese government. I'm afraid the old freedom accorded missionaries in the matter of conducting schools must be withdrawn."

CROSSPATCH COMMUNITY CENTER TO HAVE DANCE

Crosspatch Community Center will give a dance the evening of Saturday, August 11. This will be a general community gathering to which everybody is cordially invited. No admission is charged, so visitors should put the whole family in the car and come along.
Mrs. Evelyn Cross, the founder and manager of Crosspatch, will be there for the whole month of August and the young people are looking forward to several good times during the month. There will be a children's party some afternoon and probably a full dress ball later in the month.

There is quite a summer colony of people who enjoy the quiet and beauty of the Willow valley and they look forward to greeting their neighbors who are fortunate enough to live in the country all the year.

WOODSTOCK RESIDENTS CUT TRAFFIC STANDARD

One of the chief outdoor sports in the village of Woodstock at this season is the cutting of the traffic standard in the village square. Complaint was made of the condition to the State Troopers and a Trooper was stationed at the scene to try and better the condition. The first few violators of the law were found to be residents of the village and not out of town people. The law in regard to passing to the right of the traffic standard will be enforced in the village either on local or out of town people.

the city wherein the city constructed and agreed to maintain a surface water sewer across the lands of George H. Sharpe to the culvert on the Ulster & Delaware railroad. The sewer is not carrying the water as it was agreed it should.

The communication was referred to the street committee and city engineer to report at the next meeting.

Downtown Recommendations.
Chief of Police J. Allan Wood wrote that the following recommendations had been made by representatives of downtown business men and met with the approval of the police department.

1.—That white lines be painted on each side of East Strand six feet from curb, from Ferry street to Broadway.
2.—That taxi stand now in front of Preston property be moved to West Strand in front of The Freeman office, ten feet from the corner of Broadway, and that taxi stand sign be placed there.

3.—That line at corner of Broadway and Strand be renewed and that one on north side of Strand be lengthened to 50 feet instead of 30 feet in order that buses which park or stop there will not stick out into the street and block traffic.

The communication was referred to a committee consisting of Commissioners Schenck and Forst.

"Keep to Right"
Chief Wood also wrote that officers of the department requested that a sign reading "Keep to Right" be placed on traffic signal at North Front and Wall streets for Wall street traffic only.

The sign will be placed.

Electric Signs.
Requests for permission to install electric signs in front of their business places were received from the following and all were referred to the street superintendent with power: Sparrow Radio Shop, 567½ Broadway; B. W. Johnston, for permission to move sign from 26 East Strand to 34 East Strand; Al King, to install sign at 85 North Front street and also at 5 Main street; George N. Brown, for permission to install an awning canopy, similar to that in front of Governor Clinton Hotel, in front of Orchid Inn Annex at 608 Broadway; a sign in front of 55 North Front street; Lulu Kleine, for sign in front of her beauty parlor at 327 Wall street; the Texas Company, to place an electrically illuminated sign at gas station at Foxhall and Albany avenues.

Abbey Street Light.
Commissioner Fessenden of the lighting committee reported in favor of installing an incandescent street light at far end of Abbey street. The report was adopted.

The City Asphalt Plant.
The Barber Asphalt Company wrote that it would cost about $750 to place the city asphalt plant in operating condition, which brought up a lengthy discussion on laying asphalt pavement in the city. A representative of the Barber Company was present and talked of the asphalt pavement and its qualities as a street pavement.

The Cost of Pavement.
City Engineer Codwise submitted an estimate of the cost of grading and paving Mountain View avenue from Pearl to Main streets with sheet asphalt, amounting to $6,399.25.

He also submitted an approximate cost of grading and laying sheet asphalt in Emerson street from Lucas avenue to Main street, amounting to $8,174.25.

Deed to Len Court.
Corporation Counsel Flemming returned the deed to Len Court, stating it was proper as to form. The deed to the Court was accepted by the board. Len Court is located off Washington avenue, between Warren and Pearl streets.

O'Reilly Gets Light.
Alderman O'Reilly, of the Ninth ward, appeared at the meeting and asked if the light on Broadway, nearest Orchard street, could not be moved to the corner of Orchard street and Broadway, and on motion of Commissioner Fessenden the electric company will be notified to change the location to that corner.

Water in Albany Avenue.
Fred J. Roosa, building contractor, appeared before the board on behalf of his mother, Mrs. John Roosa, and asked that the board take some action toward draining Albany avenue in front of her house. A natural water course, he said, had been filled in and as a result stagnant water gathered near the properties there and seeped into the cellars of the houses in the vicinity.

It was referred to the city engineer to take action.

Bills and claims were read and the board then adjourned.

Ostrich Diet
It seems that ostriches really do eat everything. Inside of Ida, an ostrich that died in the London zoo, were found four handkerchiefs, three gloves, a spoon, several nails, a number of coins, a piece of a comb, a piece of a gold necklace, a brass key, screws, rivets, lead pencils, a piece of wood four inches long and a cord three feet long.

Gratitude is not a lost virtue. An Atlanta man married four women in as many years and only one of them resorted to law.

More power is sought by aviators in each gallon of gas. There is no kind of human aspiration in which oil does not assert itself.

The body of a slain brigand near Peking was found to have been perforated with 119 holes, one less than a cribbage board.

Our Final Clearance Sale of the Season

Started today and will continue until our mammoth stock of high grade merchandise is disposed of. It was one of the most successful opening days of any sale we have ever conducted, which proves conclusively that the women of Kingston and vicinity realize the great savings on quality garments that our final sale offers.

Remember—This sale continues until our racks are clear. Never was your opportunity to save greater. Coats, Suits, Dresses, Millinery, Hosiery, Underwear, at mere fractions of their true value.

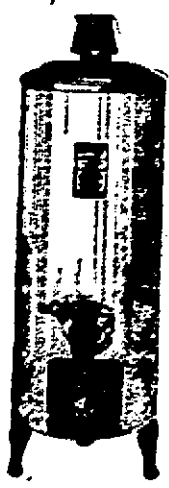

THE UP-TO-DATE CO.

303-305 Wall Street, Kingston, N. Y.

The Saturday night bath—kettles, pails, and dishpans on the kitchen stove sending forth volleys of steam—rugs drawn back to provide "splashing room" for the one who is soon to be immersed in the rough wooden tub—a night of horror for the victim and exasperation for the executioner. No wonder one bath a week was "one too many."

With the RUUD AUTOHOT gas storage water heater the scene changes. Water just the right temperature is ready at the turn of a faucet. No preparation is required and no "clean-up" is necessary afterwards. A bath a day—and sometimes two—is the custom now.

The convenience of automatic hot water service has made bathing a pleasure

Bridge Caisson
Almost Righted

After using more than 160 methods the engineers of the Blacklee-Hollins Company, builders of the Poughkeepsie vehicular bridge, have been able to put the east caisson of the structure into its approximate alignment from which it was wrenched by a force of mud and water over a year ago.

The task of drawing the caisson, a great mass of steel and concrete, from the 45 degree angle, which threw it 15 feet from its intended position, was long and tedious. It cost approximately $250,000 to right the caisson and held up the work on the bridge to a great extent. Over 100 men have been employed to right the caisson. The nature of the job forced them to work in shifts.

The bridge will not be completed until 1929, it is estimated. Winter weather will halt much of the progress. The huge caisson must be sunk 38 feet more before it will reach its mark 115 feet below the surface of the water. It is probable that the structure will not be upright until the completion of the bridge.

BODY WASHED ASHORE MAY BE MISSING YACHTSMAN.

Oswego, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP)—A body, believed to be that of John Lagoe, of this city, missing since
Sunday on the small sailing yacht Nymph, was washed ashore today at
The Mile Bay, near Cape Vincent.
The body had a scar on the chin and was clad in a life belt. Lagoe was known to have a scar on his chin. Lagoe, with C. Leonard Boyce and Thomas Dietz, was sailing Sunday from Kingston, Ont., to Oswego.
Arrangements are under way for a search by airplane of the lake shore and the islands in the hope of finding some clue to the fate of Boyce.

Dietz, the third member of the yachting party, who fell overboard, and who finally reached Duck Island after being in the water thirteen hours, was reported to have recovered completely.

75 Men Drenched
With Hot Oil

Lawrenceville, Ill., Aug. 1 (AP)— Seventy-five men, employees of the Indian Refining Company here, were injured, several of them perhaps fatally, when a steel pressure still exploded and drenched them in hot oil during a fire early today.

Twenty-seven of the more seriously hurt were rushed to hospitals at Vincennes, Ill., about 14 miles from here. It was reported that at least six of these men were burned so badly there was little hope for them to live.

Explosion of the oil pressure still occurred after a small fire had started. Volunteer fire fighters, employed by the refinery, were called.
While they were attempting to extinguish the flames the still exploded, hurling hot oil over virtually all the men.

Louis Hensley, a foreman in the refinery construction department, died from burns soon after reaching the hospital.

Doctors said there was little hope for Robert Shields, and Gene Burbank, two of the volunteer fire fighters seriously burned.

inclement weather. Provided weather conditions permit the party will be held Friday night.

Cleaner and Polisher

Oak floors and other woodwork can very easily and economically be cleaned and polished by the use of equal parts of vinegar, sweet oil and turpentine.
These ingredients can be purchased at any paint store. The object of this preparation is the sweet oil adds luster and the turpentine acts as a dryer.

A convention keynote is "Impressiveness" is sounded. The matter of harmony or discord remains to be regulated.

Bright lights are said to be exceedingly beneficial to wheat. For wild oats they are almost indispensable.

Much attention is given to talk of "How to reduce." An important line of comment is addressed to the income tax.

When two or three are gathered together, there is one in every office who thinks they are talking about him.

An eminent painter says nothing is so offensive to the soul of a true artist as a straight line. Well, there is a dotted line.

CITY TREASURER'S NOTICE SCHOOL TAX

Notice is hereby given that the School Tax of the City of Kingston has been levied with me for collection of the taxes therein mentioned, that for thirty days every person, corporation or association may pay his, her or their taxes to me between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., except Saturday, when they may pay their tax to me between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon at the office of the City Treasurer East 9th Street, without any additional charges; that for 30 days succeeding two tax shall remain uncollected at the expiration of the time last mentioned I shall give notice to the persons against whom such taxes remain uncollected, to present to me written notice requiring said person or person to pay unpaid tax to me at my office within 30 days thereafter with five per cent thereon and one dollar extra for such notice.

For the further convenience of tax-payers this office will be open on Tuesday evening, August 28, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.
